Pharmacy Liaison

Amy Edwards
amjedwar@mailbox.sc.edu
777-8702

April 2012

Spring semester is approaching its final weeks. Remember, Thomas Cooper Library is open year-round. Please don't hesitate to contact me with any questions over the summer months.

Happy Reading,
Amy Edwards

Annual Reviews

Review articles provide a useful and intelligent synthesis of the primary research literature for a broad spectrum of scientific disciplines. This database is especially strong in the sciences including earth sciences, ecology, and environmental studies. Click here to connect.

Featured Item

Clustering in bioinformatics and drug discovery

QH 324.2 .M33 2011
Level 4

Get personal research assistance with "Book A Librarian"

USC students, faculty and staff who want help with their research can make an appointment for a free consultation service that provides a person-to-person session with a librarian. The sessions can help identify ways to access and navigate electronic resources; develop search strategies; discover and locate primary source materials; search the web for relevant and reliable information; and locate materials for a literature review.

Schedule a consultation.

eRequest
Use 'eRequest' for book requests. Remember to continue submitting
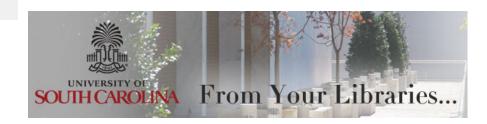

Carry the library in your pocket

University Libraries has introduced a mobile version of its website. The site includes mobile-friendly applications for some of the library's most used resources, such as the library catalog, Ask a Librarian, the computer availability page and some library databases. The site is optimized for viewing on a wide range of mobile devices.

To experience the site's full potential, use your smartphone or tablet to view our site at http://m.library.sc.edu

Planning for technology-based class projects?

To paraphrase Tom Cruise in the movie Jerry Maguire-- "Help us help you." Or more precisely, help us help your students succeed. If you plan to assign technology-based class projects, then you need to read this!

Would you like to see previous issues of the "From Your Libraries ..." newsletter? Would you like to read a newsletter targeted for another department? All copies of the newsletters are available on the University Libraries Publications page. A number of other publications produced by the Libraries also are available at this link.