Spring is right around the corner and as usual there are a lot of things left to do. Remember that all book and film requests should be submitted by March 16. You can submit your requests by emailing them to me or through eRequest. Spring is also the time to let me know of any new journals or databases (anything with recurring costs) you'd like the library to get so we can add it to the wishlist for consideration.

If I can help make your teaching or research easier during the spring or summer semesters don't hesitate to contact me.

Zotero citation manager workshops

If you have graduate students who aren't yet using a citation manager, let them know about our Zotero workshops a tool for collecting, managing and citing sources. We are seeking input on best times for future workshops.

Streaming Video

Check out our various streaming films databases. These films can be linked or embedded into any Blackboard class allowing your students to watch them whenever and as many times as they would like. All of these films can also be shown in class.

If you have any questions about this or any of our streaming databases feel free to contact Amy Trepal ajtrepa@mailbox.sc.edu

eRequest

Use 'eRequest' for book requests. Remember to continue submitting requests for books you would like the library to add to the collection.

if you have an established account or would like to create one. If not, send your requests to your department's faculty representative or to your liaison.

Tours of Thomas Cooper Library

Don't have time for a class tour but you know your class needs to know how to navigate the library? We have options for you. Have the students watch our Thomas Cooper Library Tour on "YouTube."

Or give them our self-guided tour. It will introduce them to the Thomas Cooper Library building as well as some of the services offered by the library.

The South Caroliniana Library reopens March 2

The South Caroliniana Library collections are now housed in offsite locations until renovations can be made to safely store the library's one-of-a-kind treasures in the 175-year-old structure.

New Procedures:

Researchers must contact reference staff in advance of their visits via email at scoref@mailbox.sc.edu or by phone at 803-777-3132 to allow for delivery of collection items to the library. There are restrictions on the amount of material that can be requested at one time since it must be retrieved from remote locations.

New Hours:

The reading room will be open to patrons from 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday-Friday.

Workshop - Open Educational Resources: Finding and Utilizing Affordable Course Materials

Are you concerned about the rising costs of textbooks? Has the performance of your students been affected by their ability to purchase course materials?

This library workshop is designed to help you discover and evaluate free and low cost materials for use in your classroom.

Join us March 20, 2015 in Thomas Cooper Library (Level 1 Multimedia Classroom) from 10:45 am- 11:45 am.
