Dear Journalism Faculty,

Happy New Year and welcome back to another fine semester! I just wanted to touch base and remind you all of my availability and willingness to help with any research needs you or your students may have. Please feel free to contact me at any time.

Sincerely,
Brent Appling
School of Journalism Liaison

if you have an established account or would like to create one. If not, send your requests to your department's faculty representative or to your liaison.

Tours of Thomas Cooper Library

Don't have time for a class tour but you know your class needs to know how to navigate the library? We have options for you. Have the students watch our Thomas Cooper Library Tour on "YouTube."

Or give them our self-guided tour. It will introduce them to the Thomas Cooper Library building as well as some of the services offered by the library.

The South Caroliniana Library reopens March 2

The South Caroliniana Library collections are now housed in offsite locations until renovations can be made to safely store the library's one-of-a-kind treasures in the 175-year-old structure.

New Procedures:

Researchers must contact reference staff in advance of their visits via email at scoref@mailbox.sc.edu or by phone at 803-777-3132 to allow for delivery of collection items to the library. There are restrictions on the amount of material that can be requested at one time since it must be retrieved from remote locations.

New Hours:

The reading room will be open to patrons from 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday-Friday.

Workshop - Open Educational Resources: Finding and Utilizing Affordable Course Materials

Are you concerned about the rising costs of textbooks? Has the performance of your students been affected by their ability to purchase course materials?

This library workshop is designed to help you discover and evaluate free and low cost materials for use in your classroom.

Join us March 20, 2015 in Thomas Cooper Library (Level 1 Multimedia Classroom) from 10:45 am- 11:45 am.
