Hi,

Many of you are familiar with online journals from Project Muse or from JSTOR. We get online journals from many other sources as well. Given its name you might not think of Science Direct as a source of linguistics resources, but Elsevier's journal platform has a lot including: Computer Speech & Language, Discourse, Context & Media, Journal of Communication Disorders, Journal of Neurolinguistics, Language & Communication, Language Sciences, Lingua, and Linguistics and Education.
