Hi, We're having a very busy Fall Semester in the Library. The Career Center has moved into its new space on Level 5 and Technical Services, including my office has newly remodeled space on Level 4, very close to the Math Collection. I'm happy to serve as your liaison to the Library. Please let me know if you have questions about library collections or services.

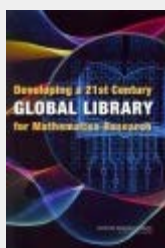

Gary

Project MUSE

Project Muse is generally considered a humanities resource, but it also provides a platform for the American Journal of Mathematics. You can connect to our online journal collections from TDNet.

The Library At Your Fingertips

We know your time is valuable. That is why we work hard to put our collections and services at your fingertips. This year, the library has added over 200,000 ebooks to our collection covering a wide range of subject areas. You can easily access printed materials with our Faculty Book Delivery service for books and films and Scan and Deliver service for articles. Use Quick Search to find all of these materials in our collections through one search box. Our Interlibrary Loan service will connect you with resources not available at our library. And if you ever need help, don't hesitate to Ask a Librarian.

eRequest

Use 'eRequest' for book requests. Remember to continue submitting requests for books you would like the library to add to the collection.

if you have an established account or would like to create one. If not, send your requests to your department's faculty representative or to your liaison.

The poster for the Fall Literary Festival 2014 features a background of autumn leaves. The text reads: "University Libraries and the Department of English University of South Carolina Fall Literary Festival 2014". The dates "Oct. 9", "Oct. 16", and "Oct. 30" are listed vertically. Below the dates, it says "6 p.m., book signing to follow" and "Hollings Special Collections Library Program Room". It also states "All events are free and open to the public." and includes the University of South Carolina logo. Three author portraits are shown at the bottom: Eliza Griswold, Ron Rash, and Tony Hoagland. Captions for the photos are "Photo: Guillermo Rivera" and "Photo: Courtesy of the author". A vertical credit "Photo: Ann Shavelly" is on the right side.
