Welcome back Faculty!

I am excited to announce that we have added a new database to our streaming film collection.

Kanopy is a new streaming platform that offers films in media and communications, gender, race, and class studies, health, science, librarianship, and education.

This collection contains films from Media Education Foundation, The Center for New American Media, and Into the Classroom Media. All the films can be embedded in Blackboard and/or streamed in class. There is no limit to the number of patrons that can watch the films or the number of times a patron can watch a film and all can be found in the catalog.

Take a look at all of libraries streaming content by going to the list of Audio & Visual databases.

I looked forward to working with all of you this semester.
