We want to hear from you! You will soon be receiving an email from Tom McNally, Dean of Libraries, with a link to an important faculty survey. This survey focuses on research, teaching, and publishing, and it seeks your perspective on a range of topics, including how you engage with and perceive the library. In particular, the survey will help the library gain insight into how our faculty members work in a rapidly changing and increasingly digital environment.

We hope you will take a few minutes from your busy schedule to assist us!

This children's book, written by Anatole France, [a pseudonym for Jacques Anatole Thibault (1844-1924), winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1921], is an excellent example of early twentieth century French children's literature. Originally published as the last 10 of the 19 "scenes" in France's Nos Enfants (Paris : Hachette, 1887); the first 9 scenes were also separately published, under the title "Nos enfants".
