Spring is right around the corner and as usual there are a lot of things left to do. Remember that all book and film requests should be submitted by March 15. You can submit your requests by emailing them to me or through eRequest.

Spring is also the time to let me know of any new journals or databases (anything with recurring costs) you'd like the library to get so we can add it to the wish list for consideration.

If I can help make your teaching or research easier during the spring or summer semesters don't hesitate to contact me.
