Hello,

I hope your semester is going well! As your library liaison I am available to answer questions relating to library resources or services as well as take suggestions on how the library can improve your teaching and research. I am also available to help your students brush up on their research skills by providing course specific library instruction sessions or meeting individually with your students about library resources and services.

Sincerely,
Karen

ARTSTOR

Provides access to over a million high quality images of art and photography, with descriptions and provenance. ARTstor covers many time periods and cultures, and documents the fields of architecture, painting, sculpture, photography, decorative arts, design, anthropology, ethnographic and women's studies, as well as many other forms of visual culture. Users can search, view, download and organize images.

if you have an established account or would like to create one. If not, send your requests to your department's faculty representative or to your liaison.

Remember When?

To celebrate Thomas Cooper Library's 40th anniversary this year, we are creating a memory book and oral history. Anyone who spent time in the library is invited to contribute a special memory or moment. Did you have a favorite study spot,? Meet your spouse? Have a go-to librarian? Let us know by sending your Thomas Cooper Library moments to libcommo@mailbox.sc.edu.

Institutional Repository

Scholar Commons is the institutional repository for USC. It's designed to preserve, collect and disseminate the research and scholarship of the University of South Carolina. You are encouraged to submit your open access material in all formats to the repository. Then search open access publications from 400 other affiliated Institutional Repositories from around the world.
