Good Morning Colleagues in Philosophy!

It is fall again and I would be remiss for not thanking Matt Kisner for his service as the department's liaison to the library and welcoming Jennifer Frey to the role! Jennifer has been hard at work selecting materials. As of October 13th, the department has spent $1,050.45 of its annual $4,050 collection budget. We've had good success in the past few years spending out the entirety of the fund from departmental request, so keep sending your suggestions to Jennifer. I've been reading Daniele Rugo's new work on philosophy and film. You'll be pleased to learn that according to Rugo what you all "do" is the performance of patience-keep that in mind as you look for a parking space.
